Not Confused, 'Just Preoccupied,' Carpenter Says

Scientists Delighted With Data

Welcome Program Set For Astronaut In Boulder, Colo.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter says he did not become confused or tired during his third orbit of the earth—but was preoccupied with many tasks.

This personal account contradicted a report from an official at the Hawaii station that Carpenter seemed tired, perhaps confused.

Carpenter is leaving today for welcome ceremonies at his hometown, Boulder, Colo.

He made these other points at a news conference Sunday:

Caused Firefly Effect

1. Frost peeling off his capsule apparently caused the "firefly" effect—or "snowflakes" as he called them—on the triple orbit of the earth last Thursday. He related how he created his own snowflakes by knocking on the sides of his spacecraft.

2. He made a mistake in leaving two control systems of the Aurora 7 on simultaneously. This depleted his fuel supply.

3. After he re-entered the earth's atmosphere, he could hear the Mercury control center here. He was unable to talk to the center because his radio equipment was out of range.

4. He called his triple orbit "easy as a bus ride" and declared he was "ready to go for a two weeks' orbit."

5. "Drifting flight offers no problem," he said. "I would be happy to have continued four or five more orbits in drifting."

6. He said he did not know whether his 250-mile overshoot of his planned area might have been the result of failure of his retro-rockets to deliver the proper amount of braking thrust.

Scientists Delighted

The Navy lieutenant commander's news conference left scientists here delighted and dazzled. They treasured the knowledge he gained in his trouble-studded triple orbit.

He told about the haze layer that America's first astronaut to go into orbit, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., had noticed surrounding the earth.

This is so well defined, Carpenter said, that when the dark side of the earth is seen from the moon "the earth would appear to be a bright blue ring in the sky."

About visibility in space—There is no change in depth perception, he said. The astronaut has the same relative size and stereoscopic vision in space that he does on earth. "I was able at one time to look straight down and distinguish four separate layers of clouds. This is depth perception of a hundred miles."

Space Suit Comfortable

About weightlessness—As Glenn also had reported, it is "very welcome and very peaceful—there is just no difficulty in accommodating to this state." The space suit itself—in which Carpenter had never previously spent a comfortable moment—was suddenly "more comfortable than I would be at home in bed."

Carpenter had arrived at Patrick Air Force Base by military plane, upon conclusion of a 48-hour medical debriefing at Grand Turk Island in the British West Indies.

He was joyously greeted by his beautiful blonde wife Rene and their two small daughters and young sons—and by several thousand friends and well-wishers.

Then he and Mrs. Carpenter and space chief James E. Webb led a parade of convertibles the 12 miles past Cocoa Beach to Cape Canaveral.

Church Dedication Held In Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — Two young men who have gone out from the congregation to serve in the ministry spoke to the 575 members and friends attending dedication services Sunday afternoon for the new First Christian Church building on Cherry St.

Gerald C. Finnie, now minister of the Salineville Church of Christ, was dedicatory speaker, using as his subject, "Strength in Our Joy." David E. Wolfgang Jr., a graduate this year of the Cincinnati Bible Seminary, gave the dedication prayer.

Music was presented by the church choir, with special numbers by Mrs. Richard Beck, who sang "Our Church Should Be Like Jesus", and a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Golden, J. Gordon Gano and Mrs. James Sircy sang "Oh, That Will Be Glory".

Ground for the new building, which replaces the white frame church at Friend and Middle Sts., now occupied by Hope Mennonite Church, was broken April 9, 1961, and the first service was held April 15, 1962.

Costing $197,000, the new building encloses 16,000 square feet of space. The sanctuary seats 350, with room for 45 in the balcony and 10 to 15 mothers can be accommodated in the special glassed-off "crying room" for mothers with young babies.

The basement contains seven classrooms, a large fellowship hall which can seat 300, kitchen, rest rooms, nursery, storerooms, office, minister's study, cloak rooms, choir rooms and baptistry dressing rooms.

Red, gold, green, amber and blue cathedral glass was used at the front and along the sides of the sanctuary.

A combination of all the colors in the glass was employed for a large window over the tiled baptistry which holds 950 gallons of

Salan May Face Trial on New Charges

PARIS (AP)—The French government may try Secret Army Organization chief Raoul Salan again seeking a death penalty that might help convince European terrorists their drive to block independence of Algeria is futile.

The special high tribunal that tried Salan on treason charges and gave him a life sentence Wednesday was abolished Sunday in a move that may clear the way for a new trial.

French officials said there is evidence that Salan, who wore some of France's highest military decorations, smuggled instructions to his followers while in prison. The government could try him in a regular criminal court on such charges.

Salan was found guilty of treason because of his leadership of the terrorist secret army and for

4,225 Get Sabin Vaccine Saturday

A total of 4,225 Salem residents received Type II Sabin oral vaccine Saturday at Salem Senior High School, according to Dr. William A. Kolozsi, county public health chairman for the program.

Last Wednesday, 6,153 persons received the vaccine here, making the two-day total 10,378. Throughout the county, 52,500 were immunized last week, 2,500 fewer than the expected 55,000.

Dr. Kolozsi said more persons would have taken the vaccine if some centers had not run out. Vaccine that was left over in other immunization centers will be made available at the County Health Department in Lisbon.

Salem residents who failed to get the vaccine may do so June 1 between 3 and 5 p.m. at City Hall, according to Dr. R. T. Holzbach, city health commissioner.

Sessions May Last Two Months

House Unit Opens Estes Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee opens its potentially high-voltage hearings in the Billie Sol Estes case today.

The first phase is aimed at discovering how Estes built up the keynote of his shaky financial empire—a huge warehouse system for storing government-owned surplus grain.

Chairman L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., called Carl J. Miller of the Agriculture Department as the key first-day witness. Miller, as head of the department's federal warehouse act branch, was the man who decided Estes' warehouse bond should remain at $700,000, even though his storage operations had increased fourfold. Miller has been transferred to other duties.

Four other department employees have been called to testify. They are Rolland F. Ballou, assistant deputy administrator of commodity operations; S. R. Smith, administrator of the marketing service which deals with warehouses; D. W. Townsend, acting chief of the warehouse act branch, and Donald I. McCoy, in charge of the branch's Wichita, Kan., field office.

Looks For Long Haul

The Fountain subcommittee hearings are expected to recess for the Memorial Day holiday, and probably won't resume until next week, but a subcommittee official looked for a long haul. "We'll be lucky if we finish with this in two months," he said.

Another hearing is in preparation in the Senate, under Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark. It will reach the public hearing stage in about a month.

A grand jury investigating the death of Henry H. Marshall, an Agriculture Department official, reconvene today in Franklin, Tex.

Marshall, who had been investigating Estes' cotton acreage allotments, was found dead last June 3 on his farm near Franklin. The death was ruled a suicide at first, but the case has been reopened and a pathologist has said Marshall probably was murdered.

Made Report Available

Over the weekend the Justice Department made available to the grand jury parts of a confidential report on Estes and cotton allotments prepared by the Agriculture Department. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said there were several references to Marshall in the report but no information about his death.

Republicans, seizing on the case as Democrats did the Bernard Goldfine scandal that rocked the Eisenhower administration, have accused the Agriculture Department of dragging its feet in the investigation. Some have demanded the scalp of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Senate To Act On Works Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today takes up a compromise $1.5-billion public works bill while attention in the House focuses on the opening of a subcommittee's hearings on the Billie Sol Estes case.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana expected to have the works measure passed by nightfall, although spirited Republican opposition was likely. If Mansfield succeeds, the Senate will quit work for the week.

Except for one relatively minor bill on Thursday's docket, the House had no business scheduled before June 4. It met today only because it had to, and with an advance agreement to quit until Thursday and then until next Monday.

The start of a House Government Operations subcommittee's hearings into Estes' tangled affairs provides the major committee activity of the week. The probe seeks to determine if influence in government helped the financier erect a large financial empire.

Kennedy administration forces have abandoned the $2.6-billion public works bill approved last month by the Senate Public Works Committee and backed in its stead a compromise offered by Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla.

This would authorize a $750-million public works program aimed at reducing chronic unemployment in distressed areas. A second provision would authorize an additional $750-million program for the year beginning July 1, 1963, if unemployment should increase 1 per cent and also exceed 5 per cent of the labor force.

Republicans are centering their fire on the second provision, under which the President could initiate projects not individually authorized in advance by Congress. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he thought most Senate Republicans would back a substitute by Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., for a $650-million emergency program which could be triggered by a presidential finding of substantial unemployment in counties in economic distress.

Major Senate committee activity includes continuation of Finance Committee hearings on an omnibus tax bill.

Blast Ripped Plane, Investigators Report

CENTERVILLE, Iowa (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board spokesman for government investigators said Sunday night they have pinpointed the place of an explosion in a Continental Airlines jet that sent 45 persons to their deaths.

A high energy blast occurred in the right rear lavatory of the plane before it was torn apart in flight, said Edward E. Slattery, public information officer for the Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation also were active in a probe of the tragedy, in which the tail section of the airliner separated and the main fuselage landed in a farm yard in nearby Missouri.

Experts of the CAB have been reconstructing wreckage of the Boeing 707 at the Appanoose County fairgrounds.

Slattery said that work on the mockup so far made clear the spot where the explosion occurred.

The type of explosive set off could have included dynamite, Slattery said.

Federal agents at Los Angeles said they were trying to find out whether there was any possible link between the theft of 350 sticks of dynamite there and the jet crash.

The airliner went down on the night of May 2. William G. Simon, special agent in charge of the Los Angeles FBI office, said the dynamite and 900 electronic detonating caps were stolen from a storage yard in the Fernando Valley May 16.

FBI men assigned to the plane investigation conferred with CAB and other investigators here for about 90 minutes Sunday. Later the agents took possession of a brown leather briefcase which had been listed as part of the plane debris.

The briefcase, with the initials T. C. D., had been found a mile east of Cincinnati, Iowa, a few miles southwest of here. That was on the path of the plane's fatal plunge in which parts of it were strewn over the countryside.

Boun Oum Leaves for Philippine Visit

Laotian Reds Launch Major Attack on Loyal Outpost

VIENTIANE (AP) — Pro-Western Prince Boun Oum left today on a three-day goodwill visit to the Philippines despite a major new rebel army thrust threatening government-held Houei Sai near the Thailand border.

The dominant member of Boun Oum's Cabinet, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, accompanied the prince. He dismissed the new rebel attack as of little importance.

The government leader left Laos in spite of a June 15 deadline set by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma for agreement on a coalition government in Laos. The United States and the Soviet Union back Souvanna's bid to form a government including Communists, neutralists and Boun Oum's rightists. Previous attempts at forming a coalition have repeatedly deadlocked.

American military sources said today several companies of rebel soldiers, believed to include North Vietnamese troops are continuing their push against Houei Sai. However, there was no late news from the fighting area.

The sources said a government defensive outpost about 10 miles from the border town was overrun Sunday afternoon when the rebel drive began. It broke the lull in fighting that has prevailed since government troops were routed from northwest Laos.

Houei Sai was abandoned by government forces May 11 in the face of a rebel drive. However, the town was not occupied by the pro-Communist and neutralist forces. Government troops reoccupied the town.

Maj. Gen. R. H. Tucker, chief of the U.S. military advisory group here, flew to Houei Sai today for an on-the-spot survey of the situation.

South of the Mekong River border in Thailand, a 5,000-man U.S. force is being deployed at the request of the Thai government in case the war should spill over into that country.

Diplomats were puzzled at the pro-Communist behavior. Souvanna and his half-brother, pro Communist Prince Souphanouvong, both promised International Control Commission members who visited them at their Khang Khay headquarters last Saturday that their forces would not stage any more military operations before resumption of coalition talks.

GOP Says Mail Anti-Medicare

California Ratio 5-1 Against Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Republicans reported today their mail is running substantially against President Kennedy's plan to finance health care for the elderly through Social Security taxes.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in an interview that a daily check of mail to GOP Senate and House members since Kennedy appeared on national television and radio last Sunday in support of his plan has provided some surprises.

"The mail from New York to Republican members has been 3 to 1 against the Kennedy plan," Goldwater said. "Even more surprising, the ratio in California is 5 to 1 against it."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., is sponsoring a modified version of Kennedy's Social Security financing plan. California has been regarded by the Republicans as an area where the Kennedy plan might be popular.

Goldwater said that, contrary to Republican expectations, the response to Kennedy's appearance has not been heavy.

The program Kennedy supports is embodied in the King-Anderson bill, now before the House Ways and Means Committee. It would provide hospital, nursing and home therapy care for persons over 65 who are covered by Social Security or railway retirement benefits.

Response to Kennedy's address was reported to have been disappointing to the White House. Kennedy himself discounted the significance of the mail he is receiving.

Goldwater said he thought Kennedy's address hurt him. "His insatiable demand for more power popped right out of his eyes for all to see," Goldwater said.

In a television debate (CBS Sunday with Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-N.Y., said the administration plan would bring to bear on hospitals "the deadening hand of the bureaucracy in Washington." Curtis is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Ribicoff maintained that under the administration approach the federal government would exercise no control over hospitals. Arguments along that line, he said, "are the smoke screens thrown up by opponents against the bill."

DiSalle, Briley Give Talks to AP Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Money, the need of it and where it must come from was aired thoroughly Sunday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and John Marshall Briley at the annual spring meeting of the Associated Press Society of Ohio.

DiSalle, the Democratic nominee for reelection, told 60 newspaper editors that Ohio does not need to enter the state income tax field, but he warned that Ohioans must be ready to finance the needs of a growing population.

Briley, the Republican nominee for U.S. senator, said he believes the federal government should "trim off some of the excess fat" before thinking about raising taxes.

Sgt. York, War Hero, Improved In Hospital

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin C. York, the World War I hero who killed 25 enemy soldiers in the battle of the Argonne, was reported improved at a hospital today.

York, 74, was admitted to the hospital Saturday. Dr. Guy C. Pinckley said York had been seriously ill but did not reveal the nature of the illness.

York, who lives at nearby Pall Mall, Tenn., has been bedridden since suffering a stroke eight years ago.

He was awarded the Medal of Honor in 1918 for destroying a German machine gun nest, killing 25 of the enemy and capturing 32 others.

NEXT OPERATION includes embossing plates. Dies with letters and numerals are shown on bench. Inmates receive few cents hourly pay.

AFTER PLATES RECEIVE base paint, rubber rollers run lightly over plate, providing second color. Some 200 inmates produce the plates.

SUPERINTENDENT of warehouse where license plates are stored shows an example of a plate greatly sought because of its low number.

Since 1918, the state of Ohio has been making its own license plates, using prison labor. In the spring, in all the states, selling licenses is a big business. The interesting plate producing process—stamping, embossing and painting numbers—is shown above. Nearly all letter and number combinations are used on the Ohio Plates, which total about nine million yearly. Most states prefer to issue plates in sets—13 use one plate—using about 15,000 tons of steel. A few states use aluminum. Photos courtesy Republic Reports.

The response was termed a spectacular success by Dr. Howard W. Hopwood, head of the Cleveland Academy of Medicine's polio committee.

Ohio Valuation For Tax Purposes Cited By Rhodes

With the last county heard from, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported today that the new grand tax duplicate of the state of Ohio is $29,355,368,502. This is the valuation for tax purposes of all real estate, public utilities and tangible personal property in Ohio.

The new total was compiled from abstracts filed with Rhodes' office by the auditors of Ohio's 88 counties. It shows an increase of more than one billion dollars in taxable property during the past year.

Latest figures for Columbiana County show a personal property valuation of $47,196,982 and a valuation of $161,753,550 on real estate and public utilities.

Seven large counties have $16 billion, or almost 55 per cent, of the taxable property in the state. Each has a valuation in excess of one billion dollars. They are: Cuyahoga, $5,654,030,697; Hamilton, $3,012,008,770; Franklin, $1,702,608; Summit, $1,478,740,352; Lucas, $1,406,074,483; Stark, $1,039,690,038. Mahoning is pushing toward the billion total with $945,108,008.

The new statewide valuation is double the grand duplicate of 10 years ago.

Confidence Begets Confidence

Henry Ford II took a deep breath at the Ford Co.'s stockholders meeting last week and said the Kennedy administration was undermining business confidence by meddling in economic decisions. The chairman of the board of one of the nation's greatest producers of wealth was concerned. Many businessmen are accusing government of rocking the economic boat.

The chief spokesman for the Kennedy administration, speaking to the White House Conference on National Issues, was in no mood last week to accept blame for lack of business confidence. President Kennedy declared:

"I would like to say a word about the difference between myth and reality. Most of us are conditioned for many years to have a political viewpoint — Republican or Democratic liberal, conservative or moderate. The fact of the matter is that most of the problems we now face are technical. They are administrative problems. They are very sophisticated judgments which do not lend themselves to the great sort of passionate movements which have stirred this country so often in the past."

THIS CAME very close to saying that politics — which clearly is one kind of "passionate movement" — is not a prime factor in the kind of sophisticated business judgments Mr. Kennedy had in mind.

It came close to saying businessmen don't know what they are talking about when they blame the Kennedy administration for business uncertainty.

It says technical causes underlie business uncertainty and if these were cleared away it wouldn't matter what a Democratic president said that rattled the composure of Republican businessmen.

The fact is, nevertheless, that businessmen point to politics when business lags. Perhaps this is because politicians so eagerly claim credit when business booms. It seems only fair to blame them, when it bursts.

No businessman would argue that confidence is caused by some mechanistic miracle that takes place regardless of the political climate.

It is more reasonable to believe that confidence grows out of emotional judgment about things; that President Kennedy's myth is the only reality.

MR. KENNEDY, commenting on the slump in stock market prices last week predicted the market would follow the economy upward and said the economy was showing every sign of being about to move upward. Was he discussing myth or reality?

Under the mechanistic theory of business — the theory that says if all indications point to stock market was overdue for an adjustment. Can Mr. Kennedy talk it out of it?

Here again the doubting Thomas of a mechanistic business world is impelled to say that President Kennedy's attitude will have more to do with stimulating the economy than all the indexes and statistics.

The United States never has had an official attitude on what makes businessmen tick. It alternately harasses them and pampers them and consistently taxes them until their eyes pop — penalizing them for success but never tempering the wind to the shorn lambs.

It browbeats them until they are reeling, then castigates them for not standing tall and acting like heroes.

It puts the bloodhounds on them, throws them to the wolves, ties them to the racks with the 8:10 due, then wonders what causes them to be afraid of their government.

IT TELLS THEM to hold down prices and encourages the unions to jack up wages.

It talks about the evils of inflation and stimulates inflation by its own policy of spending more than it dares to think it could collect even if it had that much political courage.

Whatever it is that makes businessmen tick may be too complex to decide. It's easier to find out what causes businessmen not to tick. It's because they have run down. No one has taken the time and trouble to wind them up.

Businessmen are not mechanistic. They must be fussed with and given tender loving care.

They must be given something to tick with. Henry Ford thinks they need confidence. John Kennedy thinks they need reality.

We think the greatest reality right now would be for Mr. Kennedy to prove he has confidence in business, so it can have confidence in him.

A Gift From the Kennedys

Among the wedding gifts showered down on Princess Sophia when she became the bride of Prince Juan Carlos was a gold cigarette box from President and Mrs. Kennedy of the United States.

The box signaled the esteem not only of the President and his lady but of the American people. And it is ironic that this should be so while there still are so many survivors of a generation that sent its young men to war to wipe out European royalty and make the world safe for democracy.

A lot of dictatorships have gone over the dam since then. Americans are by no means certain now that getting rid of royalty made the world safe for anything but confusion.

It is possible to seek objectivity in 1962 in appraising the service of royalty. The monarchy business isn't what it used to be, and perhaps it never was what it was said to be. Kings and queens in this era have no thought of tinkering with despotism. They leave that to dictators and rabble-rousers.

They couldn't get away with despotism in the first place, and in the second place they wouldn't try to get away with it because it would be contrary to their training. Their function, as it has been taught to them in recent years, is to be a fountainhead of wisdom about their kingdoms, leaving day-to-day decisions and political strategy to short-term functionaries whose time in the sun will be soon past.

They perform at this best when they are with but not of the people they rule; when they are exemplars of the national dignity and the masters of its graces — rallying points for popular admiration in times of stress.

Prince Juan may become king of Spain when his dictator dies. His bride is the daughter of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece, two of the most successful of the Old World's royalty. Among the guests at their wedding were Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, King Olav V of Norway, Queen Ingrid of Denmark. All the great names of royalty were represented — the Hohenzollerns, Hapsburgs and Bourbons.

It has been a long time indeed since American boys fought to abolish European royalty and make the world safe for democracy.

Holiday Admonition

While planning your Memorial Day holiday activities, allow yourself sufficient time to reach your destination if you are going to travel. Careless driving on crowded holiday highways is downright suicidal. Don't become a memory!

Once Over

Prominent doctor, medical schoolteacher and health officer, Dr. Herbert Ratner, says America is most over-medicated, over-inoculated country on earth.

"We are a pill-swallowing nation and impose lifesaving drugs and techniques on minor, trivial and even imaginary illnesses, and modern hospital is highly misused, with 20 to 40 per cent of beds occupied needlessly," he declares.

He ain't whistling "Dixie." People build houses around medicine cabinets. First thing many folks do is to say, "Let's decide first of all the size and shape of medicine cabinet. We must have adequate pill and capsule capacity."

"Modern man in hectic age could solve many troubles by proper diet and horse sense but he thinks everything depends on prescriptions, injections, tablets and assorted medicines in choice of colors.

A drugstore in the right spot is a goldmine. Doctor used to be called only when somebody was flat on his back. Hospitals were a last resort.

Pioneers went to one only for 3 or more bullet holes or wounds from grizzly bear. Grandpa had to be trampled on by a horse before he would get into an ambulance. He would fight the attendants all the way. Nobody knows what grandma went through before she would visit family doctor.

The kids got onion poultices, flaxseed bags, home-banages and orders to stay in bed and keep quiet. Today doctors' offices are as crowded as railroad stations. Most patients look in better shape than the overworked, overburdened and exhausted physician.

A doctor's office is often staffed with a secretary, an inner guard and an outer guard, all for his own protection. Specialists are busting out all over, and you may have to wait longer to get an appointment with him than to get a ticket to a world series.

Hospitals are vastly overcrowded. The nurse shortage is shocking. The entire staff from clerical workers to top physicians in some hospitals is so overburdened, many of them seem closer to collapse than patients.

Dr. Ratner says "Many people with hospital insurance have been paying so long they are anxious to get their money back and will go to hospital for all sorts of things." They look at their Blue Cross bills and say, "I've got to get sick soon to get even." But it's all a part of the pace of modern life. Tough feature is that if you manage to get your mind off your own aches, you tune into TV and get a Dr. Kildare program.

THIS IS WEEK marking 40th anniversary of airplane epic that moved all Americans as few things in history. It was Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic from New York to Paris. He was 25 years old, looked like a teen-ager, and was known only as an airmail pilot.

Huge tri-motored planes costing vast sums were on the field for the first attempt to cross ocean when "Slim," as many called him, rolled in aboard a single-engine "crate" without radio or sextant. Morning dawned under conditions that kept big and costly planes from moving, but Lindy climbed into the "Spirit of St. Louis" and was off.

People paid little attention to anything else. Few men were ever prayed for so fervently by so many. He was given little chance, and when the flash came that he had made it safely, what a sigh of relief went up everywhere!

Today with thousands crossing the ocean daily in huge planes in comfort, we wonder how many give a thought to "Slim" Lindbergh making it alone without a crew, mostly by dead reckoning.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

I would not take bread out of the mouths of babes or brick layers, plasterers or plumbers. But here I'm talking of cake

Victor Riesel

Virtually each moment on the platforms with him, there were national labor leaders who applauded, cheered and wrung his hand. But with his glistening profile and wit he might as well have been a matinee idol in old-fashioned personal appearances.

Thousands cheered. They listened but they heard not the message.

He asked for responsibility. Even as President Kennedy, with national labor chiefs right there on the platform, was asking all sides to hold the line, local leaders of unions in the $60 billion-a-year construction field were hacking the line to pieces.

In the East, one plasterers' local has just won a $33-a-week pay increase.

PLASTERING is a difficult trade. Members of the New York Local 60, which has just wound up its newest contract, put in a hard day's work—six hours long. But a $33-a-week increase effective over the next 18 months is a good hike.

Here at a special White House conference, the President and secretary of labor, Arthur Goldberg, have been asking that wage increases be kept to about 3 per cent. The Plasterers walked off with a 23.4 per cent jump.

When all this finishes taking effect on Jan. 1, 1964, the members of this 2,000-man local will be earning $174 a week for 30 hours work straight time—plus another 35 cents an hour for welfare (health insurance, etc.) and another 55 cents an hour for pensions.

Their coworkers, the plumbers of New York, have twice now (the first time on May 8), and soon will again, remind the plumbers' association that the 5-hour day (reduced from seven) positively will be an issue in the coming negotiations' next March.

The industry expects to stand pat. There may be a strike. This would paralyze $1.25 billion worth of annual construction—for these are the men who have worked on the U.N. Building, the Empire State Building and Rockefeller Center.

Nor are such demands limited to the East Coast or the now famous Northern California strike area, where at this writing, some $3½ billion worth of construction has been halted.

IN SPOKANE, WASH., the Carpenters Union is now asking for a 75 cent-an-hour increase over a three year period—plus double time for overtime.

In Eastern Michigan, the Re-Inforced Steel Workers Union was asked for virtually $1-an-hour more as a pay and benefit increase package. Also in the asking is 40 hours' pay for a 35-hour week.

Construction tasks are hard work, but the construction of a United States powerful enough to stand off the competition of the New Europe is tougher. These demands spread to other areas and other businesses as large as the steel industry.

The other day Arthur Goldberg received a letter from a national negotiator in the construction field.

"There is nothing," he wrote,

"provincial or local in modern construction labor settlements. With communications what they are today, unions in any area know exactly what others are getting elsewhere. Soon the wave of local increases mounts to nationwide proportions. When a pattern is set, it begins to expand rapidly."

Mr. Goldberg replied by asking for as many specific cases as possible.

Arthur Goldberg was aware that he was just not asking for data on a few split level ranch type projects costing more than a billion dollars. There are highways, freeways, airports, federal buildings, dams, and vast new, as yet secret, defense and sky-piercing projects.

MR. GOLDBERG got this data on May 15. He said he would pass it on to those who are making policy on these matters. He didn't say who. It could be the economic advisers. It could be President Kennedy himself.

Who ever it is, that inner-sanctum man has a problem. Suppose the President does really get as tough as he did with Big Steel, how can anyone bring the local labor leaders in line, across the country, in a hundred communities.

They are realists. They know they aren't going to be called into the White House. They know they'll be dealing with lesser aides. They know they can tell them off.

They know a crackdown would have to mean national White House wage-price fixing. They know this won't happen. So they pile it on. Is no appeal to reason possible?

We talk here of eating cake, not bread. A few more economic calories and this country will inflate like a Navy balloon and go about as high.

War on Conservatives

By DAVID LAWRENCE

JFK Flings New Challenge Into 1962 Elections

President Kennedy has launched the 1962 congressional campaign with a declaration of war on the conservatives in his party. He has asked the voters in North ern states particularly to elect Democrats in place of any Republicans, whether or not they happen to be conservatives.

The significance of this move has not yet been sensed even in the political arena. But it means that the coalition of Republicans and Democrats, which for the last 25 years has saved America from radicalism and socialism, is to be broken down if the President has his way.

Two speeches within the last six days by Mr. Kennedy emphasize his attitude toward the existing coalition. He said for instance, to the 1962 Campaign Conference for Democratic Women at a meeting on the White House lawn a few days ago:

"Nearly every issue which comes before the House and Senate today is settled by one vote, one way or the other. Congressman Boggs, on the trade bill — nearly every important vote on the trade bill in the Ways and Means Committee was settled in our favor by one vote. We lost the agricultural bill in the Senate — Agricultural Committee on which Sen. Humphrey sits — by one vote. We passed it in the House of Representatives out of the Agricultural Committee by one vote."

Just before the above speech, Mr. Kennedy told a Democratic party rally in Madison Square Garden that the coalition — or "balance of power," as he calls it — must be defeated. He said:

"The fact of the matter is, since the loss in 1938 — Franklin Roosevelt's second term when the Democrats lost so many seats — there has been a balance of power in the House and Senate which has made it very difficult to pass any new legislation which involves important interests. . . .

"What we are now talking about is whether the United States, now and after the 1962 election, shall have such a balance of power in the congress and in the executive that nothing will be done. That's the simple and clear issue. And those who think that nothing should be done, should regard this as an unimportant election."

"But as long as we have so many issues facing us in so many part of the world, and our own country — so much unfinished business involving all kinds of issue which go to the well-being of our people — as long as we have a necessity for action as the leader of the free world, I believe we should have the opportunity and not have the kind of balance in the Congress which will mean two—many more years of inertia and inaction. That's why this is an important election. Five, 10 seats one way or another can vitally affect the balance of power in the Congress and vitally affect our future."

THE PRESIDENT denies that he himself is seeking any more power. He says that this idea is "the oldest old political argument" and that people "should know and realize that the power given to the president of the United States, under the Constitution, particularly that of war and peace, is as great a power and in many senses more than man could possibly desire."

The above quotations are taken verbatim from the White House transcript covering Mr. Kennedy's extemporaneous remarks. The topic would seem to have been important enough for embodiment in a prepared address but an impromptu speech often reveals the innermost thoughts of the speaker. In this case, it is evident that the President is concerned about the balance of power against him in Congress and seeks a free hand.

Few presidents have gone as far without law to regulate the economy and social life of the nation of executive orders as has Mr. Kennedy. He realizes that the only check could come from Congress. He has today virtually a two-thirds majority of his party in both houses of Congress. But this, in his opinion, isn't enough.

It is a shaky majority because the non-radicals and non-socialists do frequently break away from party lines.

The mention of "war and peace" and "leader of the free world" in the context of political speech-making is somewhat puzzling. For Republicans and Democrats are conservatives, have generally supported the president on international policies for many years, irrespective of the party affiliation of the man in the White House.

THE REAL ISSUES are on the domestic side. Mr. Kennedy wants enough non-conservatives elected on the Democratic ticket for Congress in the North to cancel out the power and influence of the conservative Democrats of the South and perhaps even to take away their committee chairmanships if they fail to join the "rubber stamp" contingent and go along with presidential edicts.

Many Republican voters in the North doubtless will be thinking of participating in the Democratic primaries to join with other conservatives to defeat radical and socialist candidates aspiring for a Democratic party nomination.

Mr. Kennedy seems to have flung a new challenge into the congressional elections of 1962.

Cites Conflicting Promotion

May 22 was a conflicting day for the penmanship of Carl C. Juergens. On that date, his "Irate Citizen" letter on school expenditures was in The Salem News. That same day he was also using the mail. I and others received a letter and 12-page booklet promoting socialized medicine from the Salem Area Retired Workers, signed by Carl C. Juergens, president.

After carefully reading both letters and the booklet, one can only conclude that Mr. Juergens is obviously too old to go to school and is most anxious to protect the taxpayers' money in that area; however, he has been misled into believing he will benefit from the Federal Government's intervention into the world's best medical care, so taxpayers' money for this purpose is fine.

Mr. Juergens is asking all public spirited citizens to write their Senators and Congressmen, urging them to spend an estimated one to three billion dollars, in the first year alone, for the wild-eyed Kennedy program for socialized medicine through Social Security. The booklet Mr. Juergens is distributing mentioned that each family has three responsibilities — to our parents, to our children, to ourselves. What about our responsibilities to our country and future generations? If Karl Marx were alive today, he surely would find an honor to bestow on Kennedy, King and Anderson for their efforts to destroy a fundamental, American freedom.

In his school letter, Mr. Juergens stated "taxpayers aren't that benevolent". Let's hope not.

Peter C. Johnson, president, Salem Area Young Republican Club.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Readers Write

From Chicago: Please tell "Feet on the Ground" to marry a man whose feet ALSO are on the ground. I married a pilot. His monkeyshines were so bizarre and beyond belief I would not attempt to relate them.

The nature of my pilot-husband's work provided him with the most impenetrable alibis in the world. He'd telephone me from "New York" to say there were mechanical difficulties and the crew probably would have to lay over. I'd call New York a few hours later to check and I'd learn the plane had left—on schedule.

That lying Soandso had telephoned me from O'Hare Airport in Chicago which is 10 minutes from our house.

You seem to feel Ann Landers, that pilots don't cheat any more than plumbers. Well, maybe you're right, but when a plumber has "mechanical difficulties" he still has to go home at night to sleep. —NO PARACHUTE.

From Baltimore: You are so right. I married a pilot. He's my third husband (younger than

I am, too and the best of the lot. . . .

Husband No. 1 was a physician who drank himself to death. He had affairs with nurses, patients and even the wives of his colleagues.

Husband No. 2 was in the hotel business. I could always "get him at the hotel," he told me. The only trouble was I never knew in which room.

My present husband flies for one of the major airlines. He's as straight as an arrow and I've never been so relaxed and sure of a man as I am of him. Tell "Feet" to marry her flier. Everything will be AOK. —THIRD TIME CHARMED.

From New Orleans: "Feet on the Ground" must have rocks in her head. If she's worried about her pilot-husband playing games with the stewardesses, let me put her mind at ease.

My husband has been a captain for 12 years. Flying is a tension-building, nerve-shredding business. When a plumber makes a mistake you can call in another plumber. When a pilot makes a mistake they call in the coroner.

A pilot who has been sweating out weather and instrument landings has had a full day by the time he sets down his craft. He's not about to go out and make whoopee with the stewardess.

From Garden Grove, Calif.: I'm an airline hostess who is boiling mad over the letter which appeared in your column recently. Most of us are in our early 20s. The pilots are in their 40s—old enough to be our fathers. What would we want with those old Dodos? The woman who wrote that letter must be nuts.—COMMON SENSE.

From Cleveland: I was a hostess who married the pilot. He had to divorce his wife to marry me. That was 10 years ago. Now I sit home with three children, wondering and worrying if it could happen again—to HIM I mean.—STORMY WEATHER.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed, envelope.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN
Malformations In Infants

Birth of a deformed child, after months of eager and hopeful anticipation, is a heartbreak of immeasurable intensity.

In the past, the tragedy was heightened, all too often, by an unearned sense of guilt inspired by misinformation.

Gossips attributed malformations to "the sins of the father," injuries to the maternal abdomen, emotional upsets, shocks, continuance of marital relationships during the pregnancy or to retribution for evil thoughts or actions.

With the early death of the deformed child, parental reactions might be overwhelming. With survival, daily sight of the deformed child and the consequences of the deformity might be a source of continuing emotional drain.

IN PAST DECADES, we have learned much about these defects. And nothing that we have learned sustains the cruel misconceptions uttered so glibly by the gossips. Instead, we are collecting an increasing body of information which tends to prove that injury to the unborn child (embryopathy) is the result of circumstances unrelated to parental habits, customs, deeds or misdeeds.

Stated in the positive, embryopathies are the result of virus infections, especially German measles (rubella), suffered by the mother in the first third or half of her carrying period.

Also at fault is injudicious exposure to radiation during these critical months, or mismatch of parental bloods (erythroblastosis fetalis). Alterations in the colored skeins (chromosomes) that carry hereditary characteristics can be at fault.

As the result of our growing knowledge, we are becoming increasingly equipped to prevent many of these congenital malformations and deformities.

AN ENCOURAGING advance of almost equal importance is the increasing ability of specially trained surgeons to correct certain major birth defects. To attract attention to these advances, the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, Pa., has been conducting a pilot study of these surgical advances under the auspices of the United States Children's Bureau and the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Of particular interest in this pilot study are lifesaving procedures for the correction of blockages of the gullet (esophagus), intestines and rectum (imperforate anus); for correction of misplacements of abdominal organs (om-phalocele) and for "upside-down stomach" (diaphragmatic hernia). In the case of obstructions to the gullet (esophageal atresias), the previous mortality of 100 per cent has been reduced already to 20 per cent as a single example of the beneficial results of the pilot study.

Naturally, operations of this type must be performed immediately after birth. And their success depends, in great part, on the skill and experience of specially trained surgeons working under ideal operative conditions.

Should you require these services, you may obtain details of the study from the administrator of the Children's Hospital, 18th and Bainbridge, Philadelphia 46, Pa.

An East Liverpool man was treated at East Liverpool City Hospital for a laceration of the nose received in one of three traffic accidents investigated Sunday by state highway patrolmen from the Lisbon barracks.

Richard J. Plumley, 28, was hurt in a three-car crash on Rt. 30, about two miles east of Lisbon, at 5:55 p.m.

According to the Patrol, the accident occurred when a car driven by Ernest G. Jones, 54, of Oldsmar, Fla., dropped off the berm, then came back across the highway into the opposite lane of traffic and struck Plumley's car and one operated by Betty Mae Cataldo, 24, of Wellsville.

Damage to the three vehicles was moderate. Jones was cited for unsafe operation.

Cars operated by James Pettit, 19, of RD 1, Salem, and Kermit G. Hurst, 39, of Navarre, scraped together on Rt. 30, about six miles east of Hanover, at 4:45 p.m. The Patrol said Hurst was attempting to pass Pettit when the two vehicles sideswiped. Damage was minor.

Carpenter

Project Mercury, received the Distinguished Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Asked about his 250-mile overshoot, he said the braking sensation was not the same that Glenn had described it, as being "a healthy kick in the back." Carpenter said the accelerometer, before re-entry, showed only 1/2 G—one half the force of gravity, and "this is not as much as we expect."

Carpenter said all the fuel for his manual control system was expended after the retrorocket firing. He said he had had sufficient fuel aboard but "I managed it improperly."

Carpenter recalled that at the very beginning of the first orbit, he noted that the automatic stabilization control system was operating improperly.

Since this was to be largely a manually controlled flight, he said he was not particularly concerned at the time.

Furthermore, "there are so many things to do. Everything you see is such an awe-inspiring sight that you don't have time to linger on things that aren't immediate importance."

So Carpenter went on with his flight plan and tried to accomplish all of the objectives.

"On the third orbit, south of Hawaii, by count at the debriefing, there were six things going on all at one time, all of which were important."

"I understand the report came from Hawaii that I was a tired and confused astronaut. If my opinion is worth anything to you, this is not true."

"I will admit to being preoccupied. It was a very busy time."

With regard to another problem—the temperature within his space suit, 102 degrees as reported by radio telemetry to ground stations—Carpenter said he believed the instruments were wrong. "I didn't feel that I was that hot," he said.

After a long series of manipulations, he finally managed a satisfactory setting of the valve controlling the water-flow cooling system.

Carpenter said the most arresting sight of the flight was the sunset or sunrise—"it's a beauty beyond description—the pictures will be available later and you can judge for yourself."

Carpenter said the flight was "the supreme experience of my lifetime."

The launch was much easier and smoother than he had been led to believe. There were some small vibrations at liftoff, and peak vibrations at maximum stress at 30,000 feet were hardly any greater.

"I might add the retro fire, the launch—all of the accelerations, the vibrations—everything was less than I expected," Carpenter said.

"It was a very smooth flight."

Woman Walks Into Side of Car

Mrs. Mary Balan, 80, of 1121 E. 3rd St., apparently escaped injury at 2:03 p.m. Saturday when she was bumped by a car as she walked across E. State St., about 100 feet west of Penn Ave.

She was to return to the Central Clinic for another examination today.

According to police, Mrs. Balan was walking across State St. in the middle of the block when she bumped against the right side of a car driven east by Shirley A. Jakubisn, 27, of RD 4, Salem. After the impact, Mrs. Balan turned around twice, then fell to the pavement, police said. She was taken to the hospital by the driver of the car.

Grace Spooner, 48, of 339 S. Union Ave. was not hurt when her car crashed into a telephone pole on N. Ellsworth Ave., about 100 feet north of W. 8th St. at 7:42 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Spooner told police that she was looking for the handle to close a window when the car drifted into the pole. The right front of the car was damaged and the telephone pole was splintered.

Marjorie W. DeVille, 53, of 788 Washington Ave. told police that her car was damaged by an auto which failed to stop after a collision at the intersection of E. State St. and Lincoln Ave. at 9:01 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. DeVille said she was driving east on E. State St. when the other vehicle, turning west off Lincoln Ave., disregarded a traffic signal and struck the right side of her car.

Mrs. DeVille said she would file charges against the driver of the other car which police said is owned by Joseph Meehan of Cleveland.

being involved in an attempted 1961 military revolt in Algeria. The military tribunal, which earlier had sentenced Gen. Edmund Jouhaud to death on similar charges, gave Salan a life sentence after it ruled there were extenuating circumstances in Salan's case.

Many Europeans in Algeria felt the sentence showed a weakness on the part of the government, which is pledged to let Moslem-dominated Algeria decide whether it wants independence in an election in July.

They also reasoned that Jouhaud, the secret army's second in command, would get clemency from President Charles de Gaulle. But De Gaulle was reported enraged by the verdict in Salan's trial.

Dissolution of the military tribunal, set up to deal with treason cases by De Gaulle after the attempted 1961 putsch, was announced in the official journal.

Russians Orbit Artificial Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has put another unmanned satellite—Cosmos 5 — into orbit around the earth.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said it was a routine artificial earth satellite and that it was functioning normally.

It is the fifth satellite in the Cosmos series which the Soviets began on March 16. Tass said: "A routine artificial earth satellite, Cosmos 5, has been launched in the Soviet Union. According to provisional data, the flight of the satellite is taking place on an orbit close to that planned."

The first of the Cosmos series of Soviet satellites was launched on March 16. It was the first Soviet space launching in seven months.

The Soviets announced they would launch a series of artificial earth satellites during 1962 to explore radiation and other hazards man will face in extended space travel.

The fourth in the Cosmos series was launched April 26 and was brought down safely on orders from the ground three days later, the Soviets announced.

Tass said Cosmos 5 was circling the earth in 102.75 minutes. The angle of its orbit's inclination to the equator is 49 degrees, the highest point of its orbit is 994 miles and the lowest point is 126 miles above the earth, Tass said.

C133 With Six Aboard Is Missing

DOVER, Del. (AP)—A massive search was under way today for an Air Force C133 cargo airplane missing since shortly after takeoff Sunday from Dover Air Force Base. It carried a crew of six.

An airplane, among 47 air and sea search units, spotted what appeared to be several packing cases floating in the Atlantic 26 miles at sea. A Coast Guard boat was en route to the area to pick up the cases in an attempt to determine if they came from the missing aircraft, which was bound for Lajes, in the Azores.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane had taken off from Dover at 8:18 a.m. Sunday and was last heard from about 50 miles east of Dover.

Isolated thunderstorms were reported in the area where the last contact was made with the plane. Dover Air Force Base said the crew members were:

Lt. James Higgins, 28, the pilot, 102 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass.

Lt. Robert J. Fuller, 24, copilot, 6106 Blugress Road, Harrisburg, Pa.

Lt. Danny Hawkins, 27, navigator, Rt. 3, Box 176, Farimont, W. Va.

Harker Gets Contract for Reservoir Concession Stand

Ralph (Pete) Harker of 675 E. 6th St. today began operation of the concession stand at Salem's East Cold Run Reservoir.

Leetonia. Seven persons have been charged in the theft ring thus far.

They are Charles Mulligan, 21, of Youngstown; Harry Barber, 28, of near Greenford; Harry Chamberlain, Jr., 33, of North Lima; and four Dinsio brothers—William A., 26, of near Greenford; William D., 35, of near Salem; Vincent M., 39, of Washingtonville and James of Salem.

Saturday afternoon Mahoning County Sheriff Ray Davis and his men concentrated on trying to locate a safe stolen from the Kroger Super Market in Salem in September 1958. The safe contained approximately $10,000 in currency and checks.

The sheriff attempted unsuccessfully to locate the safe in an abandoned strip mine operation of the Dinsio's on the Egypt Road, south of New Albany. Davis said he will try again later this week to bulldoze the site.

A Lombard chain saw and a Bell tape recording machine were found by a Salem man Sunday, lying in a field off the Egypt Rd. The Mahoning County Sheriff's office said they would be down to pick up the equipment today.

Minerva officials want a look at the chain saw. They believe it may be one stolen from that area recently.

Police Chief Al Gibson at Leetonia says he wants to check some of the equipment recovered at the mines. He believes a Deming deep well pump stolen from Mt. Calvary Cemetery a year ago this month may be there.

About $1,000 worth of tools taken from various Leetonia owners in the past year are also being sought by Chief Gibson.

Pollution Control Conference Set Here

The Salem utilities department will be host for the Eastern Ohio Water Pollution Control Conference to be held Thursday afternoon, June 7, at the Memorial Building.

The conference will get under way at 1 p.m. when the group meets at the E. W. Bliss Co. on S. Ellsworth Ave. for a tour of the plant.

Following the Bliss Co. tour, the group will visit the city sewage and water plants, according to Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of the Salem utilities department.

A cocktail hour is planned for 4:30 at Timberlanes. Dinner at the Memorial Building is scheduled for 5:30.

contract, Harker was notified Saturday by the Utilities Commission that his bid had been accepted. The contract calls for Harker to pay the city 10 per cent of his gross business at the stand the first year, 12½ per cent the second year, 15 per cent the third year and 17 per cent the fourth year.

Payments to the city will be made monthly.

All fishing and boating permits will be issued at the concession stand from now on, according to Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of utilities. Permits were being sold at the water office in City Hall.

Besides selling permits, Harker has boats to rent at the reservoir. Bait and other items are also on sale there. The concession stand will be open from 5:30 in the morning until the reservoir is closed at night.

The recreation area at the reservoir, which is the source of the city's water supply, was opened May 15 after a vote by City Council. The utilities department is operating the lake.

The utilities superintendent reports the fish are "bitin' like crazy."

Beside opportunities for fishing and boating, facilities are available at the lake for picnicking. Ten picnic tables have been set up and several families have already been taking advantage of these facilities, Hayes said. There is no charge for using the picnic tables.

Most of the work for the recreation area has been completed. However, toilet facilities are not in yet and concrete still has to be poured for the sidewalk around the concession stand. Some grading work on the land is still being done by utilities department personnel.

Republicans Attend New Philly Meeting

Local Republican leaders were among a group from Columbiana County attending a seminar session at the Reeves Hotel in New Philadelphia all day Saturday.

They included Mrs. Sarah Hunt, president of the Columbiana Women's Republican Club; Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, 18th District state committee woman; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Guy and Mrs. Hugh Kendall, Columbiana; and Bruce Gordon, Wayne Darling, Gary Greenisen and John Maag of the Salem Area Young Republican Club.

Covering 11 counties in 4 Congressional Districts and designed to benefit activities on individual and club levels, the school was made up of seven separate sessions. John J. Carrigg of Steubenville, candidate for Congress from the 18th Congressional District, was on one of the panels.

Gordon, Darling, Greenisen and Maag were panel members for a session on membership.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Gossip within bounds brings emotional release to well-balanced people. A psychiatric team also found that those who never gossip as a matter of principle were rigid-minded and repressed, and those who were inveterate gossips were maladjusted personalities.

It takes more than just a heap of living today to make a house a home. Experts say that no fewer than 129 skills are required from husband and wife for successful homemaking. The most necessary is the determination to get along together.

It is figured that an average U.S. married couple with two children in 40 years spends about $36,000 for food. Personal note: I am not used to families in which Dad and Mom tounge the young-uns after they are 21.

Beaver 8th Grade program

Four pupils with straight A's over the past four years were given scholarship certificates at eighth grade recognition ceremonies Friday night at Beaver Local High School.

Tops in a class of 311 were Kathy Jones, Susan Kjellman, Daryl Seckman and Cynthia Smith Susan, who gave the class introduction, announced that her class had begun a book entitled "Progress in Education" to be presented to high school principal Lee Kirkland. The book will trace the history and growth of the class over its 12 years.

More than 800 attended the recognition night at which 17 students were saluted for making the honor roll. Thirteen others were honored for perfect attendance.

Honor student John Green gave the invocation followed by talks by Craig Newbold on agriculture and industry, Janie Cunningham on professions, Daryl Seckman on the students' future in the Beaver Local School District, Kathy Jones on science and mathematics and Cynthia Smith on the student's role in government.

After the presentations a reception and dance was held at the school gym. Refreshments were served by the Mothers Club.

Giants Rap Mets Twice 7-1, 6-5 To Protect NL Lead

Dodgers Take Two From Philadelphia

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Felipe Alou didn't throw any haymakers in that big brawl at San Francisco's Candlestick Park, but he did do some key punching where it counted—at the plate.

Alou combined with Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays, main eventers in the wild-swinging fight, to produce a flurry of telling hits as the Giants rapped New York's last-place Mets Sunday 7-1 and 6-5 and protected their National League lead over the sizzling Los Angeles Dodgers.

Felipe batted in three runs in each game, collected five hits, scored three times and stole three bases. He was the clutch man in the Giants' winning four-run rally in the eighth inning of the second game, singling in Mays and Cepeda, then coming around with the clincher on a wild pitch, a steal of third and a passed ball.

Cepeda had five hits, one RBI and three runs scored. Mays registered four hits, one RBI and scored four. When the dust had settled, the Giants had their fifth successive victory and the sagging Mets' loss string had been extended to eight.

In Los Angeles, the Dodgers kept 1½ games back of the Giants and ran their winning streak to eight with a sweep over Philadelphia, 5-2 and 2-1. Cincinnati took over third place by winning its fourth in a row, 10-0 over Chicago, behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Purkey; Milwaukee edged St. Louis 4-3, and Pittsburgh trimmed Houston's error-plagued Colts 7-2.

Winner Jack Sanford and relief star Stu Miller checked the Mets on five hits in the opener at San Francisco and Jim Duffalo won the second game in relief. Roger Craig and Craig Anderson were losing pitchers.

Tempers began to simmer in the first inning of the first game when Craig threw a couple of brush-back pitches at Mays, but the explosion didn't come until the seventh.

The melee lasted six minutes and involved about 50 participants, many of them playing peacemaking roles. As with most baseball brawls, few telling blows landed.

New York shortstop Elio Chacon, the only man ejected, carried away the only known wound—a minor spike mark on his left leg.

Tim Harkness struck the winning blow for the Dodgers in their second game with a bases-loaded single after two were out in the bottom of the ninth, giving right-hander Don Drysdale his 12th straight victory over the Phillies. Drysdale (7-3) pitched an eight-hitter in a tight showdown with Art Mahaffey.

Frank Howard was the key hitter in the opener with three singles and a triple and three runs batted in. The huge outfielder also committed an unusual base-running boner, failing to touch third and being declared out on a homer by John Roseboro. Stan Williams was the winning pitcher with last-out relief from Ron Perranoski.

Purkey won for the eighth time in nine decisions by holding Chicago to four singles in Cincinnati's runaway. The ace right-hander yielded only two hits and a walk through eight innings, then two singles in the ninth as the Reds continued their climb by taking the 12th of their last 15 starts. They bombed Don Cardwell and two successors for 14 hits, including homers by Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman in a six-run fourth inning.

Milwaukee bunched its four runs into the fifth inning and held on for its close one over St. Louis. The Cards got to winner Bob Shaw for a run in the ninth when Ken Boyer tripled and Carl Sawatski singled, but Stan Musial killed the rally by grounding into a double play.

The Braves hammered Bob Gibson in the fifth as Eddie Mathews singled, Hank Aaron doubled and Mack Jones doubled—all following two walks after two were out.

Pittsburgh put together a five-run sixth inning with the help of Houston's erratic fielding in whipping the Colts. Vern Law pitched an eight-hitter for the Pirates, who took advantage of five Houston errors and racked up five unearned runs.

Salem Hunt Club Holds Contests

Chester Bert of Spring placed first in both the pistol and .22 cal. rifle offhand competitions when the Salem Hunting Club held its monthly shoot Sunday at the club range.

Pete Tsipsis was second and Lester Cox, third, in the pistol while Bill Robinson was runnerup in the rifle with John Kessig coping the number three spot.

Kessig won top honors in the .22 cal. Rifle bench rest followed by Olive Kirby and Robinson.

Special prizes were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kirby with traveling trophies going to Mrs. James Ivan of Salem and Dan Kleon of Winona.

The yearly .22 cal. rifle shoot will be held June 10 at 10 a.m.

Four Area Entries Place In Class A Finals

Collinwood, Braceville Cop Track Titles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Forty-three talented teen-agers are Ohio's scholastic spring sports champions and the idols of eight high schools.

All eight of the championships at last weekend's sports carnival at Ohio State University went to new owners. Five defending titlists made it to the finals, but none managed to survive.

The 43 also is one of the smallest two-man teams surprised last year's winners and won both the Class AA and A titles.

Theo Morrow scored 17 points in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the 180 low hurdles. Steele won the pole vault. The 1961 Class A champion, Cincinnati DePorres, finished 15th.

In baseball, Baltimore Liberty Union's bid for an unprecedented third straight Class A crown was washed away by Van Wert Lincolnview. The Northwestern Ohio team carried off the title in a 4-0 decision, snapping Liberty Union's 46-game winning streak.

A young and talented North Bend Taylor team picked up the Class AA championship, defeating Niles McKinley 7-2 in the final game. The triumph returned the big school crown to the perennially potent southwestern district. Last year Cleveland South broke the southwesterners hold.

Ashland and Hubbard's Alex Antonio topped 106 high school golf stars.

Antonio, the 1961 state junior champion, was the medalist of the 36-hole course with a 78-70-148, and Ashland pulled two strokes ahead of defending Kettering Fairmont to claim the team title.

Saturday, lightning struck a Columbus Linden youth, John Hunte 17. He was preparing to hit his second shot on the final hole when the lightning struck, hitting the club the youth was holding. He was rushed to a hospital, declared all right, returned to the course and parred the final hole.

Races Held By Motorcycle Club

A Cleveland rider, Red Galias, won the open class (heavyweight) in the Western Reserve Flyers Motorcycle Club scrambles race held Sunday at the club grounds.

In the medium weight field, Tom Scharlow of Youngstown, an 18-year-old, copped the first place trophy.

The lightweight class trophy was won by Bill Bentley of Cleveland and the special trophy for Tom Hodges of Cleveland.

MAKE ALL-STAR TEAM

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Two Ohio University baseball players have been named to the NCAA District 4 all-star baseball team. They are first baseman Bob Wendersleben and outfielder Larry Thomas.

The district includes Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio.

Two Columbiana athletes, one from Lowellville and one from North Lima placed in the Class A finals.

Columbiana's Jim aWrd placed third in the 220-yard dash while teammate Fred Gosney was fifth in the high hurdles. Bob Pratt of Lowellville was second in the 100-yard dash and Allen Thornton of North Lima was fifth in the 440-yard dash.

and Mike Cavotta 5 to account for all of Cleveland Collinwood's total as the Lake Erie city team won the Class AA laurels. Dayton Roosevelt, the 1961 champions and favored to repeat this year, had to settle for a three-way tie for fourth place with 10 points.

Split Twin Bill With Weirton

Salem Merchants Claim First Win

The Salem Merchants copped their first win of the season Sunday as they split a double header with visiting Weirton in action at Kelley Field.

Weirton took the first game 5-1 with the locals rallying in the second to nip their opponents 4-3.

In the first game, with the score tied 1-1, the Weirton nine exploded for three runs in the sixth and then added a single tally in the seventh to emerge the victors. Paytors was credited with the win while Hank Miller absorbed the loss. Despite losing, Salem outhit Weirton 7-6.

Casey Lease provided the power for Salem in the second encounter of the day as he slammed a two-run homer in the seventh inning to tie the game at 3-3. In the eighth Ben Roelen sacrificed the game.

The Merchants will be back in action Wednesday when they play host to Youngstown Local 1331.

Cepeda Scores Heavily In Mets-Giants Brawl

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Maybe Orlando Cepeda should try boxing.

Few things are rarer than an actual solid punch in the usual wrestling match-baseball brawl. But the fiery Giants' first baseman threw away the scrip in a battle royal with the New York Mets Sunday and landed a series of blows on Roger Craig that

Yankees Split With Detroit

Twins Post Dual Wins Over Chicago

By The Associated Press
Baltimore's big Jim Gentile is a lousy hitter. So says Jim Gentile.

American league pitchers have an entirely different version of the story. The figures seem to support the pitchers. To wit: a .309 batting average, 36 runs batted in (second in the league) and a league-leading total of 15 home runs.

The 6-foot-4, 210-pound Gentile is unimpressed.

"I'm a lousy hitter," he said. "But I have to admit I'm a lucky one."

Lousy or lucky, the results are impressive. Take his last six games: 11 hits in 25 times at bat, six home runs and 11 runs batted in. Or take Sunday's game. He had three hits, including an 11th inning homer, in the Orioles' 4-2 triumph over Boston.

Cleveland took sole possession of first place with a 5-3 triumph over Washington while New York split a pair with Detroit. The Yanks won the first 4-1, lost the second 5-1. Minnesota pulled to within a half-game of the top with a sweep over Chicago, 5-4 and 8-6. Los Angeles and Kansas City split, the A's taking the first 3-2, the Angels the second 6-3.

Indians Blast 35 Homers In Last 14 Frays

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have blasted their way into sole possession of the American League lead with a potent punch—35 home runs in 14 games.

Tito Francona (No. 3) and Willie Kirkland (No. 7) supplied the power with solo homers Sunday at Washington as the Indians tripped the Senators 5-3. It kept intact Cleveland's record of not having lost a series yet this season.

The Indians grabbed a half game lead over New York and Minnesota. But if the Tribe is to make a run for the pennant it will have to stay hot during the next three weeks when it faces the toughest part of its schedule.

After tonight's game against Chicago here, the Indians go on a 17-game road trip against Baltimore, Detroit, New York, Boston and Washington, in that order. Then Cleveland returns home for a four-game series with the Yankees June 15.

The Indians started off with a pair of runs against Washington in the first inning Sunday on doubles by Francona and Don Dillard and Chuck Essegian's single.

Francona and Kirkland clouted their homers in the fifth as Cleveland took a 4-1 lead, enough to offset the Senators' late rally.

Dick Donovan (8-0) seeks to make it two in a row against the White Sox tonight when he meets Early Wynn (2-3).

NEW YORK — Ted Wright, 153 1/2, Detroit, defeated Phil Moyer, 159 1/4, Portland, Ore.

Billy Casper Cops Festival Tourney

Golfer Fires 20 Under Par

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — When the king of golf is away, the gang will play—and profitably, too.

In the absence of Arnold Palmer, priming for the U. S. Open, Billy Casper, Sunday won the $50,000 "500" Festival Open with a record-smashing 264 total, 20 strokes under par.

Along with Casper, runner-up to Palmer in this year's PGA money-winning list, no fewer than five other golfers shattered the Speedway tourney record of 270 set by Doug Ford in 1960.

Ford, seeking a third straight Speedway title, didn't do so well. His 277 put him in a six-way tie for 29th and earned him only $291.

The hot-shooting Casper's $9,000 take swelled his 1962 purse to $41,208.

It seemed for a few minutes in the Speedway that a sudden death playoff might be in order. Jerry Steelsmith and husky George Bayer each stormed to a 19-under-par finish with closing eagle threes just ahead of Casper, last to play.

But Casper birdied the 71st hole to go 19 under par and the came up with another birdie on the last to tie for closing 64.

Go! Club Holds Weekend Tourney

Del Smith and Joe Schleimer won the first and second flights, respectively, of the weekend tourney held at the Salem Golf Club.

Smith fired a 76 with an eight-stroke handicap for a net 68, nudging Oran Narragon and Ray Blair, tied for second with net 69.

Schleimer ended the day with a net 66 with Ralph Moffett a close second with a net 67 and Don Lock third with a 70.

Eighteen couples participated in the Scotch Ball event. Joe Glenwood and Helen Gonda teamed for a low gross of 39 while Al White and Isabelle Kille had a 35 low net.

Butch Konnerth and Ruth Greenwood and Walter Hartsock and Hilda Konnerth had 36 low net.

Columbiana Legion Dumps Warren 6-2

Columbiana's American Legion Baseball team downed visiting Warren 6-2 Sunday in the host team's opening encounter. Ken Gallagher was credited with the win. The Clippers entertain Lisbon's entry in the County League tonight in a non-loop encounter.

Extend Garden Hose's Life By Keeping It In Good Repair

Buying a new garden hose or are you repairing an old one? Here are some tips to guide you in either case.

A good garden hose, cared for, will last for years. Both plastic and rubber hoses wear well, but in either case there is cord reinforced with hold up better under water pressure.

More Flexible
Plastic hose is subject to stiffening in cold weather while rubber remains more flexible. This is unimportant in most cases since the hose will be used principally in the summer.

But, it is a factor to remember when you store a hose. If you tossed your plastic hose in a heap in an unheated garage over the winter, you may find it kinked up. Soaking the kinks in hot water will allow you to work them out with your fingers. Hoses are available with a variety of inside diameters. A half-inch opening is sufficient in most cases. Get a larger hose if you have a large area with several sprinklers to cover.

Long Enough

Get a hose that is long enough. There should be enough length so that you can use it anywhere on your lot without stretching it, scraping it against a corner of a building or kinking it at the faucet.

Leaks generally occur at the faucet. If you're lucky, this means nothing more than that washers need renewing.

Hose washers are cheap and easy to replace. They should be renewed at the beginning of every sprinkling season and at frequent intervals as a routine matter.

Continued Leak

Sometimes a leak will continue at the faucet end in spite of new washers. The face of the opening or the threads may be rough. Touching up with a file will correct this.

Use hose menders to repair bad spots in a hose. Cut out the bad sections. Ends should be neat and square.

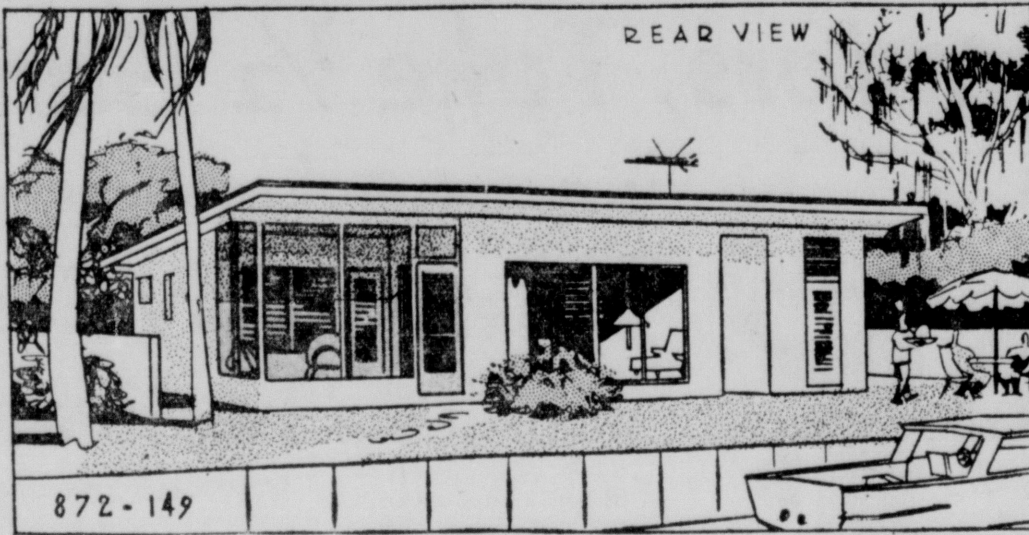

A rubber hose mender is a tube with cleats at the center that are pounded down into both ends of the hose once the mender is inserted.

Dip Ends

Dip the ends of a plastic hose in hot water to soften them. Insert the mender tube. A taper nut is then slipped over the tube and screwed onto the hose. Place the other taper nut on the tube and insert the tube into the other end of the hose.

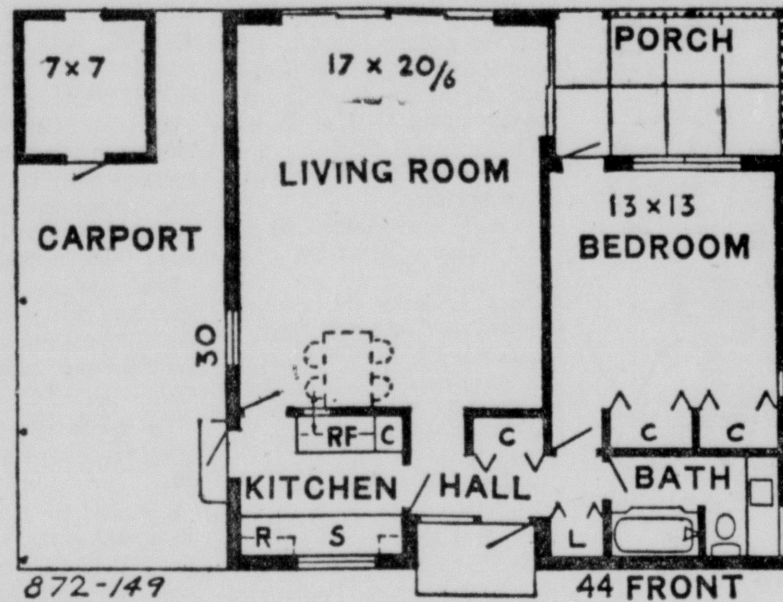

New couplings can be installed the same way.

A hose will last longer if cared for. Do not leave it in the hot sun. Not only will the sun soften the hose, but the water remaining inside will boil. If your hose must cross a driveway, put thick boards on both sides so that cars passing over it will not injure the hose.

Rust Damages In Country Amount to Billions Annually

Rust is one of the greatest beauty killers in your home.

Sparkling white siding is marred by streaks from rusted nail heads. Fences, outdoor light fixtures, and decorative railings, meant to enhance the beauty of the home, become unsightly and repulsive when allowed to rust. Ugly rust damage destroys the pride of ownership as well as property itself.

America is just becoming fully aware of the billions of dollars that are lost to rust and corrosion each year. The toll is estimated to run to over eight billion annually, more than $50 for every man, woman and child in the country.

CORROSION ENGINEERS are working tirelessly to prevent rust damage in industry.

The relentless fight against rust begins on the date of purchase for many of the metal objects in and around your home, and in the majority of contests, rust wins out in the end.

But the rust villain need not take such high tolls. Positive action with good maintenance will bring beauty to community and home, and enhance the pride of ownership of property rather than destroying it.

PAINTING WITH SPECIALLY formulated rust preventive coatings is the primary defense in the battle against rust and corrosion. Ordinary paints do not have maximum protective value against rust.

Rust preventive coatings are now available which actually stop rust that has already begun to stop further damage. These rust preventive paints are available in a wide variety of beautiful decorative colors.

Check for rust on any exterior metal: fences, hinges, mail boxes, railings, etc. Don't forget the lawn mower, garden tools and metal doors. From the door knob

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: It's more than 20 years since I have done any painting, but now I have a project for the summer. Is there any difference between applying the old-time and modern paints?

ANSWER: Modern water-thinned latex paints and alkyd paints and enamels are harder, more waterproof, last longer and retain their color better than pre-war paints and dry much faster, too. But because of these virtues, particularly the fast dry and the harder finish, more careful surface preparation is essential. These paints just will not bond securely to contaminants of any kind. This means that the surface to be painted must be absolutely free of dust and dirt, oil, grease and wax, chalk from old paint or masonry and loose rust.

Moreover, modern paints do not crumble away with age to leave a porous surface. Instead, the paint film remains hard and smooth. This means that to insure adhesion the surface must be mechanically roughened with sandpaper or so-called liquid sandpaper before repainting. If older type paints are being recoated, "tooth" must also be provided the same way.

Unlike old-style paints, modern paints should be applied with a minimum of brushing or rolling. Excess stroking disturbs the particles that are laid down with the first load of the brush or roller, preventing them from coalescing as they are intended to do. This results in poor hiding and a rough appearance.

Fall Is Best Time To Kill Dandelions

If you think that the best time to kill dandelions is in the spring when they are blooming, you're wrong.

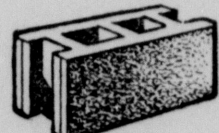

The weedkiller 2,4-D will do a good job on dandelions in the spring, but fall is a better time to use it on dandelions and many other broadleaf weeds, says Marvin Carbonneau, Ohio State University extension floriculturist.

If dad has a workshop, lock the door when it is not in use and keep toddlers out at all times, for tools can be dangerous.

Kitchen requirements for pots could be the six-inch height. These may be useful also for some small appliances. Drawers may be interspersed with shelves in a linen closet for more efficiency, and since drawers move easily on the preformed slides even in the presence of moisture, they may be used in bathrooms and in basement workshops.

DRAWERS MAY BE planned to the height requirements of tall men who dislike bending down to remove clothing from dresser
